Safe Flight Instrument Corporation Donates $50,000 to Corporate Angel Network

White Plains, NY – Safe Flight Instrument Corporation has donated $50,000 to Corporate Angel Network in support of the charity’s 30-year program of arranging free flights to treatment for cancer patients using empty seats in business aircraft.

Safe Flight has been a pioneer in aviation safety and performance since 1946. The company transported the first patient for CAN, returning a 16-year-old boy to his home in Detroit after treatment in New York City.

“We have believed firmly in the role of this unique charitable organization since its beginning in 1981,” said Randall Greene, Safe Flight’s President and CEO and Chairman of the Board of Corporate Angel. “Its work to sustain the lives of so many cancer patients requires continuous support and we are proud to be among the many companies who see this need and act on it.”

Since its founding in 1981, Corporate Angel has grown to include 530 participating corporations, a team of 50 part-time volunteers and six paid staff who work with patients, physicians, corporate flight departments and leading treatment centers to coordinate the medical travel needs of cancer patients with corporate flight operations.
